Rehabilitation

Our dedicated rehabilitation team works with each person individually to ensure for a safe recovery and easy transition home. The comfort our patients feel while staying with us is just as important as the therapy that they receive.

Our rehabilitation team are equipped to get you or a loved one back to the best physical shape possible. Our staff is dedicated to working with patients and help them acquire or relearn the skills they will need to be active and live independently. Our physical therapists will work with each patient to create individual goals and programs to improve strength and restore function. Occupational therapies that are given are aimed at improving fine motor control, coordination, cognitive skills and teaches functional and self-care skills commonly referred to as activities of daily living. Our speech and language pathologist help our residents communicate more effectively by using advanced techniques in oral and pharyngeal sensorimotor training.

Long Term Care

Our Long Term Care Program is aimed at sustaining each residents maximum physical, social and cognitive function. The staff at Hopkins are frequently in-serviced by our in house education coordinator to ensure the highest level of care is given. Our professional nursing staff are available 24 hours a day Seven days a week as well as our in house physician and nurse practitioner.

Weekly meetings are held to ensure that all patients have up to date care plans dealing with each persons individual well being. This is completed with the staff as well as the residents family to guarantee our residents are reaching their highest potential. Care plans are designed to incorporate all aspects of care for a person such as social service, recreation therapy, rehabilitation, dietary and nursing amongst others.

Specialized Wound Care

Hopkins Center offers a comprehensive treatment program for individuals in need of wound care. We care for patients recovering from all types of wounds with the assistance from our in house wound care doctor. Stasis wounds, pressure ulcers , grafts, and surgically complicated wounds are all handled by our specially trained staff in a caring manner.

Our wound care physician over looks all of our patients that requires a wound-vac, which delivers negative pressure wound therapy. Also available for patients with healing wounds are air loss mattresses, which allows for more comfort and quicker healing process.
